Manager's Commentary

A short month due to the Tet holiday, but one that sets us up nicely for the coming year with the VNI having closed above 700 points for the first time since 25 February 2008 on the first trading day of the lunar year. The opening month of the calendar year saw a strong move in the index with the state banks, ROS, SAB and MSN (none of which we own) contributing substantially the entire gain. February 2017 has started in a more positive relative fashion and we continue to believe that the quality of our holdings will deliver superior returns over time so are not distracted by short-term noise. We outline our bullish views for the rest of the year and beyond in a short presentation entitled "Vietnam: Asia's Last Tiger Emerging"; please let us know if you have not yet received a copy. Essentially we believe that there are further strong gains to come as authorities strive for MSCI Emerging Index in an accommodating macroeconomic environment.
